THREE FIRMS ROBBED.

ALLEGED CULPRIT IN COURT

At the Central Magistracy yesterday afternoon a Chinese named Chan So was charged before Mr. R.E. Lindell with complicity in an armed robbery on August 29th. Outlining the case Inspector Pincott stated that on the afternoon of the 29th, four robbers, three of them armed with revolvers and the other with a dagger, entered the third floor of 7 Lee Yuen Street East. The premises were occupied by three firms. All the occupants were bound and gagged and herded together in one room. The robbers stole various sums of money aggregating $1,382. On the 4th, September an employee of one of the victimized firms who happened to be at Yau-mat, saw the accused in Waterloo Street and recognised him as one of the robbers. He followed the defendant as far as Shanghai Street and kept watch outside a house, which the defendant entered. Subsequently Sergeant Post arrived and brought the accused out of the house. Several Chinese witnesses gave evidence after which the case was adjourned.

ONE OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST SALESROOMS

The salesroom of the New York Branch of the Buick Motor Company at 55th Street and Broadway, New York, sells and delivers more cars and more dollars worth of automobiles than any other salesroom in the world. And its sales are increasing all the time.

This Buick Branch delivered, during 1923, 24,565 new Buicks, representing a cash value of $38,591,918. In 1924, it is expected that about 30,000 cars will be delivered, a business of over $50,000,000. Few if any of the great New York department stores will do as great a volume of business.

From August 1, 1924, to May 16, 1924, deliveries of this Branch amounted to 20,139 Buicks as compared with 16,293, deliveries for the same period the preceding year. This represents an increase of 3,844 cars, or a 23-1/2% gain. Sales of this Branch for the first two-weeks of May 1924, were 1,231 Buicks as compared with 945 sold in the same period last year. This is an increase of over 30%. It is no wonder that a record breaking volume of business is expected for the new season.

Because the value of Buick output has each year been greater than that of any other exhibitor, Buick has held first place in every National Automobile Show in the United States during the last six years. In 1923, Buick sold 218,516 motor cars, representing a value of $302,752,950 not including war tax or freight. In the New York district alone 12-5/10% of the 88,026 new cars sold in 1923 were Buicks.

SHY OF LONDON.

Over 4,000 Girls Chaperoned.

In spite of the independence and resource of the modern girl, the days have yet to come when she will be able to do without "aid" and "care" when travelling about the country, says a London paper. The latest report of the Travellers' Aid Society, which exists to help girls and women, shows that their work has grown greater than ever. Statistics reveal that in the past 12 months—3,307 women and girls have been met at London stations and docks; 234 have been assisted abroad, and 577 "stray cases" have been put on the right road.

A long journey alone, especially for the first time, still has its misgivings to English girls. The idea of crossing London appeals some of them.

This is where the Travellers' Aid Society, who are on good terms with police and railway officials, step in.

During the last year the society has given food and shelter to French, German, Italian, Norwegian, Rumanian, Greek, Jewish, and others besides British.

RADIO NOTES AND NEWS.

Wireless and the Forecasting of Earthquakes.

Radio is coming to the front in seismatic observation, and if the experiments now being conducted in Japan are successful it will in all probability be possible to forecast the occurrence of earthquakes, and thus rob this act of nature of many of its devastating effects.

For many years past instruments have been developed that record earthquake shocks, but it has not yet been found possible to discover a method by which it can be determined when and where they will occur.

Earthquakes, generally speaking, are of two distinct types: those accompanied by volcanic eruptions and those from earth slides. To the geologist and seismologist an earthquake is the result of some sudden displacement within the earth's crust, and whether tectonic or volcanic it represents to them something to be explained by research, but to the rest of the world it is a horror. Scientists have been working since 1885 with many forms of seismograph instruments which are extremely sensitive to any rupture occurring in the surface of the earth and which are capable of measuring oscillations from the opposite side of the earth.

The standard instruments used are of the type which employs a suspended mass, the framework of which is attached to the earth's surface, says Popular Wireless. A needle attached to the suspended mass is actuated on the lever principle so as to give a greatly amplified movement on a graphed smoked paper, the principle involved being that the suspended weight tends to remain in position, while the earth moves under it. Various types of this apparatus are in use in some three hundred seismological stations throughout the world, and while sensitive enough to record earthquakes, can in no way correctly measure minute slips of the earth strains which precede a big earthquake.

The radio-seismograph, however, is capable of measuring the slightest movement or sound emanating from either the porous or dense strata immediately below the surface, and by studying the various sounds and heretofore indiscernible vibrations, it is hoped that it may be possible to discover some method of forecasting not only the location of an expected earthquake or volcanic eruption, but also its magnitude.

Earthquake waves are very similar in their directional action to light waves or radio waves, as they travel in a straight line in all directions from the source of their emanation.

The use of a series of radio-seismatic instruments to locate the direction from which the sounds are coming is therefore necessary, so that the area can be charted in a similar manner to which ships are given their bearings along the coast by triangulation. So that it will be necessary to have three stations working in conjunction to make the observations.

The exact details of these radio instruments are not generally known, but are believed to be a method of clamping on the earth's floor highly sensitive radio pick-up devices and then through amplification and the use of an oscillograph to record all motions and noises.

A SIMPLE CIRCUIT.

The "Copp" Still Popular.

Despite the howls against it, the simple Copp circuit remains most popular of all. There are three seasons for this:

It is cheap. It is easy to build. It is easy to control.

Besides, it has the advantages of sensitivity, long range and strong signals. A single tube receiver of this type can tune in easily on stations up to 500 miles away, under good atmospheric conditions.

But the great objection to the Copp circuit is that it causes trouble to neighbouring fans—it reradiates.

This can be easily avoided, however, if the operator of a Copp circuit set uses care in tuning in. The tube can be kept just below the oscillation point, to avoid trouble to others, and at the same time bring in the best results.

Parts for the set shown here include:

Cl. 43-plate variable vernier condenser, 001 mfd.
C2, fixed condenser, .001 mfd.
C3, grid leak and condenser, .00025 mfd.
L1, L2, variocoupler.

Six ohm vernier rheostat.
Switch lever, seven taps and two switch stops.

One tube socket.
Six binding posts, one pound No. 16 DCC wire, bus wire for connections, phone jack, panel and base.

The entire receiver can be constructed on an 8-inch panel and a base 6 inches by 12 inches.

The variocoupler may be made as follows:

The primary, of No. 16 DCC wire, is wound on a piece of 4-inch dielectric tubing 6 inches long. This heavy size wire is chosen because it has less loss than the lighter variety and therefore gives much clearer and stronger results.

Wind 24 turns of this wire about the primary, taking a tap off every 10th turn and running each to the switch points. The centre of the switch goes to the ground and the positive of the A battery, which in turn is connected to the negative of the B battery.

For the secondary, a 3/4-inch ball rotor may be used, or a tube of that size. Wind 17 turns of the No. 16 wire on either side of the brass rod that goes through the centre of the tubing and connects with a dial on the panel.

The aerial should be taken to the rotor plates of the variable condenser and the stator plates of this condenser should be joined to the grid condenser and to the beginning of the primary or stator of the variocoupler.

Try only 10 1/2 volts of the B battery voltage on the plates at first, and increase gradually up to 22 1/2 volts if you find more volume will be produced without distortion or resultant battery noises.

In tuning for the first time, turn the rheostat knob until a squeal is heard. Then turn the knob back very slightly to the point just before the squeal comes in. The rheostat may be left at this point for all time. It is just before the oscillation point.

Next set the switch at about the third or fourth point and turn the rotor until a slight rushing noise is heard. Then turn the variable condenser to the point where the station comes in clearest and loudest.

If no station is heard, set the switch at another point and repeat with rotor and condenser.

SLEEPY SICKNESS.

The epidemic in Britain of encephalitis lethargica (Sleepy sickness) has by no means passed away, though it has considerably abated. No fewer than 15 fresh cases were notified in London, and 68 cases in England and Wales recently. The outbreak is without any precedent without a break from February 1 till the present time, and has amounted, in England and Wales, to 3,976 cases in the period from February 2 to August 2. In the earlier epidemics the cases were numbered only in hundreds, and the trouble was over, as a rule, by the middle of April.

ON THE FARM.—President Coolidge, holidaying on his father's farm in Vermont, used two new wooden rakes, presented by an admirer, to prove he hasn't lost the art of farming. Left to right Congressman Allan T. Treadway, President Coolidge, Mrs. Treadway and Mr. C. Bascom Slomp, secretary.

THE COMING GERMANY.—Ten years ago the youths of Germany mobilized for the monarchy. To-day they are being mobilized again—against the monarchy. Half a million boys have been recruited under the "Black and Red Gold" banner. They are learning the manual of arms and the goose step to defend the Republic against Imperialists.

AERIAL THRILLS.—There were plenty of thrills in the aerial races and carnival which the 27th Division Air Service, New York National Guard, staged at Miller Field, Staten Island. Here, for instance, is Alva F. Starr, winner of the parachute jump, hitting the ground in a rather abrupt landing.

PRINCE WEDS.—A romance which has been the gossip of society circles for some time led Miss Ava Alice Astor, daughter of the late Colonel John Jacob Astor, to the altar as the bride of Prince Obolensky of Russia. The prince's first wife, Princess Catherine Alexandrovna, daughter of the former Russian Czar, divorced him last January.

OFF FOR REST.—President Coolidge seems well pleased with the prospect of a vacation at the old home in Vermont. With Mrs. Coolidge and John, he is shown smiling his good-bye.

BOATING PRINCESS.—Princess Marie, 9-year-old daughter of the King and Queen of Italy, likes to row. This new photo shows her on lake at San Rossore, near Pisa.

EARL ENGAGED.—English society circles are excited over the engagement of Miss Philippa Wendell, daughter of the late Jacob Wendell of New York, and the Earl of Galloway, seen above.

TWO-MINUTE TALKS A Daily Talk By ROBERT POWER

AFTER MANY YEARS!

The exile in a foreign land So at last he understands that, often pictures to himself the joy after many years, he is old and of returning to the scenes of his boyhood chums are also old, childhood. Distance indeed lends and many of them are gone. It is enchantment to the view. In is the lesson of life, and a bitter fond thought the old home, the one.

Then, maybe, he returns, and comes again to the place where as a child he spent his careless hours. But he stands bewildered to realise how the passing of the years has altered everything, who the old shops are there but strange faces gaze at him and still he falters in inquiries. "Dead," or "Gone away these many years," they tell him, when he seeks information of those he knew so well.

There is no returned traveller, but has felt the disillusionment wrought by Time. A new old generation, perhaps two, stands in the place of the old. The streets are shrunken, the houses seem smaller, the steps more up and down. Bowldered, he traces out the scenes of his boyhood. Gradually there comes to him the realisation that it is only a faint, and other creatures of with the passing years, and to refresh and blood, who have altered. The old church is just as it ever was, and when the chiming ring out they bring back again with a rash the hours when they warned him home to dinner or to bed. The river still runs on beneath the grey bridge; the great elms seem not a whit different, and in the distance the hills lift their heads to the sky.

FOR CHINA STATION.

VINDICTIVE COMING TO HONGKONG.

It has been decided to send out to the China Station the light cruiser Vindictive, which was launched as the Cavendish by Messrs. Harland and Wolff, and renamed in honour of the Vindictive, then in German hands at Ostend. She is a particularly successful ship, and is a great tribute to Belfast shipbuilding. She is to relieve one of the smaller units of the "D" type, and this change will make a great difference to the strength of our force in the Far East, for our squadron will thus have two ships of 10,000 tons, armed with seven 7.5-in. guns apiece. Up to the present they are superior to any other cruising ships in the world, but will, of course, be eclipsed by the new cruisers which all the Powers are building under the Washington agreement. The Diomedé, that she relieves, is only of 4,700 tons displacement, with six 6-in. guns.

The Vindictive was originally designed to run down German raiders in the Pacific, but was altered while still under construction to act as an aircraft carrier. Her service was to pick up our exhausted machines after operations in German waters, for this purpose she was fitted with a flying-off deck forward and a long flying-on deck aft. The idea was that with her 7.5's she would be able to defend herself against any of the German light cruisers, and her 31 knots would make it possible for her to get away from the heavier ships. Progress with the aircraft carriers has rendered her unnecessary now and more use can be made of her as a cruiser. She has been in Portsmouth Dockyard for some time, having her aircraft fittings removed. It is expected that the vessel she relieves will join her sister, the Dunedin, on the New Zealand Station.

DEADLY EPIDEMIC IN JAPAN. Several of the most eminent medical men of Tokyo have left hurriedly for western Japan where a new and specially deadly epidemic, resembling spinal meningitis, is raging. More than 900 persons are reported dead of the disease, which has been called "narcotrophic meningitis." The victims, after going through usual early symptoms of spinal meningitis, fall into a comatose state and so remain until death. The death rate in the epidemic has been about 65 per cent. The prefectures most affected are Kagawa, Tokushima, Okayama and Yamaguchi.

fine whisky

THE new Peter Dawson bottle has been "brambled" and "dimpled" in this peculiar manner because the whisky it holds is so good that it needs to be protected against imitation.

Whoever wants fine whisky now has four different ways of seeing that he gets it.

He can ask for Peter Dawson by name. He can see that this peculiar bottle is brought. He can taste the "P.D." quality. He can mix the whisky with soda, and discover for himself why a "P.D." and soda is recognised as the best thing in whisky-and-soda.

DESCRIPTIVE BOOK ON THE OLD COLONY.

(Our Own Correspondent).

Macao, Sept. 22.
It is gratifying to local residents to find how great is the interest taken in this old Portuguese colony by those who have been charmed by their surroundings.

Of much value to the colony, and very informative too, is a book recently written, in English, by Mr. Francisco Monteiro, which describes very beautifully some aspects of Chinese life here. The Harbour Works department has recognised the value of the book to the extent of giving it early publicity as a matter of propaganda.

Mr. Monteiro deals first with the history of Macao, and gives one a fine glimpse of the part played by the settlement in the old days. Chapters on the colony's industries, now and old, with statistics, show that there is a steady revival, and in the near future this place should develop into a commercial centre of some importance. It is a book that will be widely read.

U.S. BUSINESS MEN.

TO VISIT ORIENT.

The President Madison, of the Admiral Oriental Line, sailing from Seattle on October 11th, will bring a delegation of business men and manufacturers from Seattle and the Northwest to visit the Orient.

The Trade Commission is being sponsored by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce and includes many prominent men from that locality. The purpose of the trip is to study trade conditions in all the large cities in the Orient, the itinerary to include Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai, Hongkong and Manila. After arrival in Manila, according to present plans, the commissioners will disband, returning directly to Seattle, aboard the President Madison or making more extended visits in the Orient.

Much interest is being taken in the forthcoming visit of this delegation and the various commercial bodies in each port are making extensive plans for entertainment. This is the second trip that has been made to the Orient under the auspices of the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, the first one occurring in 1921.

FRAUD CHARGES.

BAIL GREATLY REDUCED.

Application for a further reduction of the bail in the case of Charles Rent and Lo Shu-fan, solicitors' clerks, charged with conspiracy and forgery involving a sum of $300,000, was to-day made by Mr. M. L. Donny, of Messrs Hastings, Donny and Bowley, the firm in which defendants were employed. The reduced bail now applied for was to be secured by a Bond of $5,000 given by the defendants' employers, in each case.

Mr. C. G. Fordue, Assistant Director of Criminal Intelligence, did not oppose the application. Mr. R. C. Lonsdale.—It is rather a come down from $30,000. His Worship reduced the bail as applied for.

SOME BLOW.

A violent whirlwind is reported at Asahi-mura, Ishikawa Prefecture on the coast of the Japan Sea recently. A woman wedding in the fields was carried high up into the air and is missing. On the affected area no trace is left of any crops. They were all carried away. It is just as well, or the poor woman would have nothing to eat in the sky. The Asahi reports this tale quite seriously.

HONGKONG, 24th Sept., 1924.

OPIMUM FICTION.

We wonder how long Chinese spokesmen will attempt to keep up the myth that the opium traffic is being rigorously combated in their country. Addressing the Advisory Committee on the Opium Traffic at the League of Nations meeting in Geneva a few days ago Mr. Chao Hsin-chu refuted the statement that the cultivation of the poppy was universal in China. In support of his contentions, he blandly informed his hearers, who received the statement with applause, that China has laws prohibiting opium traffic in any form, adding that she would be able to enforce them to the fullest extent when the Central Government regained control of the provinces. We do not, of course, dispute the fact that there are all manner of dire penalties prescribed in China for opium traffickers, but it is one thing to pass a law, and quite another to put it into operation. Only a few days ago, a Hongkong committee, which included two well-known Chinese and a prominent missionary, declared that there is at present no effective control over the production and distribution of opium in China, where limitless quantities of the drug are available for the people. That is without doubt a far truer reflection of the facts than the statement made to the League of Nations meeting in Geneva. It represents what we know to be the merest nonsense to suggest that China's anti-opium laws are likely to be enforced in the near future. According to the speaker quoted, that time will be when the Central Government regains control of the provinces—a date sufficiently remote to cause all anti-opium propagandists to become weary of hoping for a realisation of their wishes. One has only to read the annual reports of the various Customs Commissioners in China to perceive that opium is still as freely grown and used in all parts of the Republic as ever it was.

We have not to go very far afield to find facts conflicting with popular outside impressions so far as opium suppression in China is concerned. If there is one place where this movement is supposed to have made headway, it is in Canton and the province of Kwangtung generally. But does anyone with a knowledge of the facts pretend to say that the opium traffic is unknown there to-day? The reverse is true. Why, even the so-called Anti-Opium Bureau is a body which exists for the collection of opium revenues! Moreover, the one bone of contention in Canton amongst the rival military forces is the right to this income from opium. The Sun Yat-sen regime has posed before the world as an anti-opium Government, but the traffic to-day in the drug, right in the city of Canton, is open and unopposed. Chinese speakers may tell the world of such striking incidents as executions of people found to possess a few ounces of the drug, but these are in no sense representative of the general situation. The broad fact is that China has not begun to carry out even the most elementary obligations under the Opium Convention, and these stories of a nation working heart and soul to rid itself of the evil are sheer distortions of the actual conditions prevailing at the present time.

Anti-Rabic Work.

One hears so little of rabies in the Colony that it is interesting to know that this dread disease persists year by year among dogs examined in the Colony. This is of special concern in view of the number of dogs kept by European residents—dogs of all breeds and tempers—to be met on the tram-cars, the ferries, the verandahs and sidewalks; some leashed and others not. There are also the many strays occasionally encountered. Public interest in the subject will be aroused by Dr. Koch's questions put at the Sanitary Board meeting yesterday, and the replies thereto. Delay in treatment of a human patient can be fatal, and from the official answers given to the enquirer we gather that it would be very inconvenient for a person to be bitten by a rabid dog during the week-end or on a public holiday. Perhaps there will be some means of ensuring fresh supplies of anti-rabic vaccine at short notice, at any time. The following extract from the medical report on the Colony for last year gives an idea of the prevalence of rabies and the work done to combat it:—"The rabies virus is constantly maintained by passage through rabbits, and a sufficient quantity is always kept in stock to treat twenty-four cases at a time. The number of patients treated in 1923 was 26, the same as during the previous year. The number of dogs examined was 16, of which 5 gave positive results; in 1922 the number examined was 28, of which 17 showed positive results."

World Arbitration.

What might be described as the biggest thing the League of Nations has ever tackled is the new idea of obtaining an international agreement for world arbitration in place of war. The really important part about the scheme is the proposal to have sanctions against any nation that either ignores the possibility of arbitrating or else deliberately goes counter to a decision of the League Council or the Hague Court. Apparently, the perversity of human nature, which only behaves when there is the fear of punishment, is fully recognised. The idea is a great one, and deserves every support. If it works as its sponsors hope it will, the world will be now on the threshold of a new era of peace such as men have dreamed of for centuries. We trust that there will be a hearty response to the appeal for signatures by the various governments, especially the Powers, who alone could make or mar the scheme. Britain seems to be pleased with the whole idea, to the extent of promising the use of her fleet for carrying out sanctions. We are glad to see that the British delegate is sticking out for freedom of action by the navy, however. Of much

DAY BY DAY.

NO LEGACY IS SO RICH AS HONESTY.—Shakespeare.

To-morrow, the students of Salingpung School are holding a celebration in honour of the Birthday of Confucius.

Amongst several Deputy Lieutenants recently appointed to the County Palatine of Chester is Sir Gershom Stewart, M. P.

Yesterday's health return shows one case each of typhoid fever, cerebro-spinal fever and purpural fever, the sufferers all being Chinese.

Five microscopes have been stolen from the School of Physiology at the Hongkong University, according to a report received by the police yesterday.

The river gunboat Moth, Lieut.-Commander N. A. Beal, paid off and recommissioned at Hongkong, has a full Chatham crew for further service on Chinese rivers.

Showing at the Star Theatre for the last time this evening is Joseph Lincoln's masterful story, "Partners of the Tide," which has been filmed with notable realism.

The Rev. H. Copley Moyle will conduct the Bible Study Circle at the Helena May Institute on Friday next, September 26th, at 10.30 a.m. The meeting is open to all women.—Advt.

Mr. W. G. Darby, who only recently returned home from a prolonged trip to British North Borneo, has had to undergo rather a serious operation. He is at present in a nursing home.

A broken yule rope was the cause of a harbour fatality yesterday. Whilst taking passengers to a ship, a young boatwoman with her little son fell into the water when the yule rope gave way. The lad was rescued, but the woman was drowned.

Sin Kam, who was sentenced to seven years' hard labour at the Criminal Sessions last week for possession of arms, was given three months' hard labour by Mr. E. W. Hamilton at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning for the theft of the arms from the captain of a.s.s. Salen. His sentence this morning is to run concurrently with that imposed at the sessions.

Wallace Reid in another thrilling motor car picture, "What's Your Hurry?", will be the attraction at the Coronet Theatre for the next three days. The action centres around "Dusty" Rhoades, motor car racing driver in love with Virginia, daughter of Pat MacMurrain, manufacturer of Pakro trucks. Lois Wilson supports Wallace Reid as leading woman in this picture.

Reports from Canton state that when the representatives of the Merchant Volunteers went to see the two Yunnanese Generals with regard to the return of the arms, promised for the 22nd instant, they found that Hu Han-min, the acting Generalissimo, had left for Shikwan that day. They thus concluded that the arms are no longer in the Government's possession, and are said to have already to carry out the measures already arranged.

Two obstinate natures are in opposition in "The Price of Possession," a homily on the old sayings of "What I have I hold," and "Possession is nine points of the law." Ethel Clayton is very charming in the part of an Australian lady who succeeds to the title and estate of Barston Manor, Surrey, and her determination on her dead husband's cousin who turns up as a pretender, is cleverly enacted. "The Price of Possession" is being shown at the Queen's Theatre till Thursday.

Interest is the assertion by some of the smaller nations that the arbitration scheme is a Franco-British project, and that these two governments are laying down the law as to what should or should not be. Perhaps, though, these prejudices will be amicably overcome. There will certainly have to be unanimity of outlook if this great plan of wars (by sanction) to end war, is to materialise as a blessing to all mankind.

FOOTBALL POLICY.

MACHINE GUNNERS BEATEN BY DRUMS.

[BY "WANDERER."]

One of the biggest mistakes a half-back line can make is to concentrate on defence and leave the forwards to work out their own salvation. A half-back is also a half-forward in actual practice, and yet so often do you see a whole line forgetting this entirely. There is no question, in my opinion, that constructive work is at least as important as the defensive duties of a half-back, unless it can be gainsaid that attack is the best defence.

In the football final in connection with the Montague-Bates Platoon Cup held on the Murray Barracks ground, last evening, the Right Section Machine Gunners were defeated by the Drums and Signals by three goals to one, and one of the main causes of their defeat was the mistaken policy of their half-backs who persistently laid back when, if they hoped for success, they should have been well up the field, giving very necessary support to their forwards.

The Drums opened their score three minutes after the start, Carter finding the net. Robinson should have equalised two minutes later when unmarked, he was given possession, and missed hopelessly. A few minutes later he made amends by equalising with a shot which left Bayard standing. It was football of a real cup-tie order, play being transferred from end to end very rapidly. The Drums took the lead close to the finish Carter again being the medium, and Freestone made victory doubly sure by heading a splendid goal from a corner.

Bayard in the winner's goal was on the top of his form and the Drums have much for which to thank him. Parker and Cooper defended well the former having a strong kick, though not always reliable. Freestone was the outstanding half in a fairly good line, and forward, Humberstone stood out. The centre-forward is a member of the battalion team and he put in many brilliant shots without meeting with success. The right wing was held in check by Jordan, but the left pair were often dangerous.

Jordan was the only man who distinguished himself on the losing side, although there is little doubt they were a good workmanlike eleven. They struck one as being cleaner and crisper in their work, but the halves, although good in defence, did not do all they should. The inside forwards were better than the wingers.

KONGMOON INCIDENT.

POLICE OFFICIALS TURNED OUT.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Kongmoon, Sept. 23rd. According to a notification issued by Leung Chun-kai, brother of General Leung Hung-kai, commanding the First Army Corps of Cantonese soldiers, he has been appointed the Commissioner of Police at Kongmoon by his brother and he has therefore assumed office. This is, however, a different way of saying that the new Commissioner is self-appointed, for no instructions have been received from the Canton Government by the dislodged Commissioner, Li Ngai, who was recommended to that post by Gen. Hsu Sung-chi.

It transpires that Leung, the new Commissioner, just walked into the Police Yamen on the 20th, inst., with a large party of armed soldiers to take over the office by force. Mr. Li Ngai having gone to Canton, the officials in charge at first refused to hand over, but they were threatened that unless they left the place at once, they (the soldiers) would show them who was the boss there by putting them all under arrest. So there was nothing else for the police officials to do but to leave the Yamen.

This is another glaring example of the military in the districts taking no orders from the Canton Government, but just acting on their own—if only their private interests can be served. There is no doubt that Li Ngai, the dislodged Commissioner, will not take the humiliation with resignation, but want to get his own back. It is being watched with interest by the public what steps will be taken by Li.

CORRESPONDENCE.

(To the Editor of the "Hongkong Telegraph.")

Bathing Beaches.

Sir,—Now that the unofficial members are busy asking certain questions of the Government, may I suggest that they take up the matter of converting the bathing beach at North Point into an up-to-date bathing pool?

It would certainly add to the beauty of the neighbourhood, and save the Government thousands of dollars now wasted in erecting matcheds, which are not only very unsightly but a source of danger as regards fire and typhoon.

I trust this will catch the Hon. Mr. Montague Ede's eye, and that he will take the matter up at once, for we all know that he has the interests of the working man at heart.

Your, etc.

AQUA.
Hongkong, Sept. 24th, 1924.

A Complaint.

Sir,—I fully endorse the complaints of your correspondent "Blind Justice," ventilated in your issue of last evening, for it is, indeed, unfair to the residents in the Chinese tenement houses in Pilgrim Street, Yau-mati, that, although they pay equal rate of taxes, they do not enjoy the privileges as others do in European tenement houses, to wit metered water-service in the house and ample light and police in the street.

As regards these complaints, I would also draw the attention of the Sanitary Board to the vacant piece of ground between Nathan Road and Pilgrim Street. This ground is being used by the people in the locality as a mortuary for babies, dogs, cats, etc., and also as a latrine and a depot for all sort of refuse; and if this nuisance is allowed to continue, plague is bound to return in full virulence in the year 1884.

I trust the authorities will find those complaints justified, and give some their immediate attendance.

Yours, etc.,
SCALES OF JUSTICE,
Hongkong, Sept. 24th., 1924.

MURDER FROM BOAT.

BOY THROWN OVERBOARD.

An attempted robbery, which was accompanied by a brutal murder, occurred in Aberdeen harbour yesterday.

Chow Yau-tai, a boatwoman, was removed to the Government Civil Hospital with a serious stab wound in the right side of the neck. She told the police that two men engaged her boat at Wunam Street to go aboard a fishing junk in Aberdeen harbour. On the way, the attitude of the passengers struck her as being peculiar, and, becoming uneasy to the point of being panicky, she turned the boat round, with the intention of returning shorewards.

The boat had not gone far when the tragedy occurred. Her six-year-old son was seized by the robbers and thrown into the water, where he was left to drown. The woman was then stabbed, but she succeeded in drawing attention to her plight. Realising the failure of their plan to rob the boat, the robbers in their anxiety to escape before help arrived for the woman, jumped into the water and, it is presumed, made their escape by swimming ashore.

A report was forwarded to the local Police Station as soon as the boat returned alongside the seawall, and immediately officers were dispatched on a search for the criminals. They found a man with his clothes all soaking wet, on the waterfront, and took him into custody on the supposition that he was one of the men who were on the boat.

Just a little bacillus
Puzzles all the learned men,
Puzzles all the best of us,
And remains beyond our ken.
Much is said of what should be,

Dodges you and dodges me,
Hides where nobody can see,
And will hide until we're dead.

SANITARY BOARD QUESTIONS.

proportion to the relative proportion of Chinese and non-Chinese residents, there has been no evidence of any common source of infection. Even residence in the Colony cannot be a common cause for all the cases, as at least twelve cases have been imported since the beginning of August. As regards the resident cases, there is no evidence suggesting that the water as supplied to the people from taps and hydrants is to be blamed for the diseases, nor has there been evidence of a contaminated common food supply.

There are certain conditions prevailing in this Colony, which themselves are sufficient to account for the continued presence of typhoid, and in this respect it may be remarked that a table of the incidence of typhoid during nearly eleven years shows that no single month during this period has been without its quota of typhoid cases. These conditions may be summarised as follows:

The presence of typhoid carriers. The thousands of "dry privies" with the nightsoil exposed in buckets.

Overcrowding. The Chinese method of growing vegetables by manuring with liquid manure and diluted comparatively fresh urine.

The handling of food by carriers either after cooking or without cooking.

The use of ice actually in drinks and placed in food, the ice having been handled by possible carriers.

With regard to ice it may be noted that with a view to testing the quality of ice recently imported from Canton, samples were examined by the bacteriologist, who reported that the quality of the ice was good.

Dr. Koch: Then, I take it Sir that the suggestion before, that the milk was perhaps one of the causes, is not persisted in?

Dr. Koch went on to say that of course these general statements were what all medical men understood, but they wanted something more specific. He was of the opinion that there should be a laboratory attached to the Board in order that they might be able to find out for themselves the origin of diseases. He was not blaming the Department, because it was not concerned.

The Medical Officer of Health said there was one remark he should like to make arising out of Dr. Koch's criticism. Dr. Koch had said that he believed that the statement made by him (Dr. Pearce) with regard to certain cases of typhoid fever was not now persisted in. "I should like to say," Dr. Pearce added, "that I do not retract a previous statement."

The Chairman: We are still well below the 1923 figures, Dr. Koch, as you know.

Bacteriological Reports.
Dr. Koch moved the following resolution:

"This Board respectfully requests that the regular reports of the Bacteriological and chemical examination of the waters of the Colony be laid on the table as soon as issued for its information and for such criticism as may be called for."

Dr. Koch said that the answers given to some of the questions that day about the bacteriological examination of water were a strong argument in favour of the resolution. One of the answers referred to a certain report. They all knew that in all these reports the state of the water had been given as unsatisfactory, but they could not refer to them because they were confidential.

The Chairman: No, excuse me. Dr. Koch: Are they not confidential?

The Chairman: They have not been confidential for the last four or five months. Members will remember that.

Dr. Ozorio: We all have an idea they are absolutely confidential. There is a minute from the C. S. O. saying they are absolutely confidential and are not to be discussed.

The Chairman: It is not sent round as a confidential paper. The reason was a certain procedure was adopted in consequence of confidential instructions, but as members of the Board will remember a few months ago—I think in April or May—Dr. Koch raised a question why these reports should continue to be confidential. I went into the question and said I saw no reason why they should be confidential, and that they would not be so in future.

Dr. Ozorio: I pointed out that the water was bad, and the next I heard about it was a minute from the C.S.O. that it must be taken as confidential.

The Chairman: The report is sent round for the members of the Board to make any comments.

Public Should Be Warned.

Mr. Koch said that if the position was as the Chairman had stated there did not seem to be much necessity for the warning. Assuming that they had not got formal authority to discuss these things openly, he moved the resolution standing in his name, and commended it to the Board's favourable notice.

Mr. Alabaster seconded the resolution. He thought that the Board had rather been led off into a side issue as to whether the reports were confidential or not. As he read the motion, it asked that they should get the information as soon as issued; whether confidential or otherwise did not matter. It had been the practice for some time, he understood, to give them fairly prompt information where the water was satisfactory, but where the water was unsatisfactory attempts were made to make it satisfactory before the information was given.

The Principal Military Medical Officer at a recent meeting of the Board referred to the fact that owing to the present system he was unable to make provision for boiling water for the troops until a considerable time after he might have done so if the information had been supplied promptly. He thought the same remark applied to any of the medical members of that Board who desired to issue instructions on the same subject. He considered the general public should be told when the water was unsatisfactory, because then they could take the necessary precautions for boiling water. He seconded the motion as it stood.

Dr. Ozorio: I think there is too much made of the scare of the public. Let the public know. It is an intelligent public.

The motion on being put to the meeting was carried unanimously.

POPULARITY OF THE ZOO.
Nearly a quarter of a million more people visited the London Zoological Gardens between January and July this year than in the corresponding period of 1923, and an increase of over 85,000 was recorded last month alone. This may be due, in part, to the number of visitors in London from all quarters of the globe for the British Empire Exhibition but the progressive policy of the authorities has had much to do with the success. The Aquarium opened by the Society in April has proved a great attraction, having been visited by over 300,000 people in less than four months.

'There's something wrong with my stomach'

When you find yourself saying that—think! Nearly all the serious ills of life start in the stomach and could be prevented if taken in hand in time. A stomach-ache is a warning, and if you wish to avoid such troubles as gastric ulceration and chronic dyspepsia you should take a hint from medical men and try Bisulphate of Magnesia. Acid causes stomach pain and Bisulphate of Magnesia neutralises this harmful acid the instant it enters the stomach. Bisulphate of Magnesia is a cure that is good for young and old; always beneficial. Bisulphate of Magnesia costs very little for powder or tablets at any chemist. The sure cure always has the famous oval Bisulphate Sign on the wrapper.

The Motherliest Mother Story ever Told

"Where is my wandering boy tonight?"

Direct from its sensational run at the exclusive Criterion Theatre, Times Square, New York, comes the picture magnificent. "Where is My Wandering Boy Tonight?"—the picture with the tremendous heart punch—the picture of Main Street and Broadway, of soda fountains and cabarets, of swell apartments and back stage jobs, of dance halls and a little church, of a mother and her wayward boy, of a cry, a kiss and a chorus girl.

The Picture Beautiful
The Picture You'll Never Forget

A picture of hope and despair, of dreams and the ashes of dreams—a picture of poignant appeal that reaches deep into every human heart. The picture of joy, laughter, smiles, tears, pathos and much happiness. The picture for every mother, father, sister and brother. The picture for everyone from 7 to 70. A B. P. production filmed from the old song of the same name. Clean, fine, wholesome, packed with drama, filled with suspense, saturated with thrill—truly the picture magnificent.

THE LEAGUE'S PEACE PACT.

Geneva, Sept. 23.

The draft arbitration protocol was discussed by the Armaments Committee last evening, when Mr. Henderson made important reservations as regards the use of the British Fleet, which he declared must retain entire liberty of action. He said the British Government was of the opinion that it was inconceivable that the British Empire would make war against the Covenant or against the Protocol; therefore, he only envisaged the case wherein Britain would be engaged in warlike operations on behalf of the Covenant with the approval of the League. The Government was sure that in such case it would be necessary and desirable, in the general interest as well as in Britain's particular interest, that the British fleet should be able to operate with the freedom that might be required to secure rapid success and termination of sanctions. Therefore, he proposed a reservation that disputes arising out of warlike operations undertaken by the British Empire in support of the League should not be referred to the Permanent Court for settlement. The reservation did not appear to limit in any way the value of what the League was doing. Nobody desired the Permanent Court to become a body controlling military operations. Therefore they believed in safeguarding the liberty of action of the British fleet, which above all must be safeguarded. They were not acting contrary to the general interests of the nations of the world.

M. Benes, reporting on the discussions of the sub-committee, declared the Protocol did not overstep the frame of the Covenant in the matter of sanctions. The signatories to the Protocol undertook nothing new thereon, though the obligations would become more precise and more efficacious. The agreement reached by the sub-committee had resulted in the elaboration of a system leading to the goal,—destruction of war. Their responsibility was grave, but despite the difficulties they hoped the discussions of the Third Committee, and afterwards the Assembly, and finally the acts of the Governments when it came to the question of signatures, would not cause disappointment to the millions of humans, who were looking to Geneva with the one only word, Peace, on their lips.

The discussion was adjourned.—Reuter.
Mr. Henderson's precise statement has dispelled misgivings as regards the use of the British fleet. A further point in Mr. Henderson's declaration, which deserves special mention is that referring to the part the Council of the League may be called upon to play in the matter of sanctions. Mr. Henderson declared there was no idea, and never had been an idea, of placing troops or ships at the disposal of the Council to use as it thought fit. There was no intention whatever of converting the Council into a Council of War and imposing upon it the burden of conducting military campaigns or naval operations.—Reuter.

ANGLO-RUSSIAN TREATY DEPRECATED.

Moscow, Sept. 23.

In an article in Pravda, the well-known Russian economist, Mr. Milutino, dealing with the Anglo-Russian treaty says that the cancellation of the debts of the former governments is one of the basic principles of the Soviet social system, and any demand for the settlement thereof represents an attempt to modify that system, amounting to interference in the internal affairs of Russia which the treaty specifically forbids. He contends that the British Government, by guaranteeing a loan only in principle, made no economic compensation for the very important concessions made by the Soviet, and concludes saying that the advantages of the treaty are problematical and that the time has come to break off completely all negotiations connected with the claims of British financiers.—Reuter.

A TSAR FOR RUSSIA.

Berlin, Sept. 23.

The Grand Duke Cyril, in a manifesto to the Russian people, assumes the vacant throne of Russia, with the title of Tsar. The Coburger Tageblatt learns that the Grand Duke does not intend officially to inform the foreign powers at present. He continues to reside in Germany.

The manifesto dwells on the sufferings of the people of Russia, formerly the grain-producer of Europe, and declares that hope of foreign help is vain, owing to the efforts of Communists to bring about a world revolution. He hopes the Russian Army will speak a decisive word, whereby the people will arise and recall their legitimate ruler. He promises to restore the Church, pardon those who have gone astray, and give land to the peasants.—Reuter.

WEMBLEY CLOSING DAY FIXED.

London, Sept. 23.

The closing date of the Wembley Exhibition has been fixed for November 1. The question of re-opening next year is still open.—Reuter.

GERMANY OPPOSED TO FRENCH TAX.

Berlin, Sept. 23.

France's imposition of a twenty-six per cent. levy on German goods imported has been very unfavourably received in commercial and Government circles. It is declared that the latter will regard it as an unfriendly act which will prejudice the execution of the Dawes agreement.—Reuter.

RAPID TRANS-OCEANIC CABLING.

Berlin, Sept. 23.

Professor Wagner, President of the Berlin Telegraphic Technical Institute claims to have discovered a method of trans-oceanic cabling a thousand letters a minute compared with the present maximum of two hundred. It is intended to construct cables between Germany and the United States on Wagner's system.—Reuter.

INDIAN CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT REPEALED.

Simla, Sept. 23.

The Assembly by a vote of 71 to 40 passed a bill repealing the Criminal Law amendment to Act 1908. Sir Alexander Muddiman opposing, said the times were difficult and abnormal and pointed out that no stage would be left between ordinary law and martial law if the bill passed.—Reuter.

FIGHTING IN THE NORTH.

LULL IN FIRING MARKS FIGHT.

Shanghai, Sept. 23.

Guns everywhere generally remain silent save for occasional salvos of artillery at Kiating and Lihuo.

Fifteen hundred troops from Kashing crossed the Whangpoo bound for the Chwanhsa coast east of Shanghai, evidently to forestall a possible encircling movement of the Kiangsu forces from the Taihu region.

Labour disturbances outbreaks at the Lungwha arsenal have resulted in an alleged clash between the soldiery, workers and the civilian ordnance workers who are being sent to the front lines to repair damaged guns.

The retreating Chekiang forces destroyed upwards of twenty bridges on the Hangchow railway between Kashing and Hangchow.

WORLD FLIGHT.

MAJOR ZANNI'S DELAY.

(Our Own Correspondent.)

Shanghai, Sept. 23.
The Argentinian World War Major Zanni, has been requested by Lu Yung-hsiang to postpone his flight to Shanghai from Hongkong. The request has evoked a vigorous protest addressed to the Bureau of Foreign Affairs by Mr. A. Del Carril, Shanghai representative of the Argentinian, wherein he contends that Major Zanni intends to alight on the Whangpoo River, and that permission for the flight has already been granted by Peking. Mr. Del Carril says he has telegraphed to Major Zanni to await instructions, but asserts it is possible that the flight has already started for Shanghai.—Reuter.

EMPIRE EXHIBITION.

RETURN OF HONGKONG EXHIBITORS.

In the ordinary course of events the Chinese exhibitors attending the British Empire Exhibition are expected to leave England for Hongkong some time next month. Advice received locally indicates that arrangements will be made with a steamship company to bring the Hongkong contingent back to the Colony and that probably they will embark at once.

It is reported that a complaint has been received from the Chinese exhibitors regarding the tonnage of the selected ship, which they consider not big enough to ensure a comfortable trip. We understand the complaint is receiving attention, and a telegram has been despatched to the Hongkong Commissioners in England asking for information.

RAILWAY CENTENARY.

Celebrations on Site of First Line.

The hundredth anniversary of the opening of the first public railway in Britain will take place next year.

Although the actual date of the centenary will be September 27, 1925, the celebrations will take place on July 2.

It is proposed to hold the celebrations, as far as possible, on the site of the first line, which ran between Stockton and Darlington.

They will probably include the unveiling of a tablet in Bridge-road, Stockton, where the first railway ticket was issued, and a procession of representative locomotives and rolling stock from Stockton to Darlington.

SANITARY BOARD QUESTIONS.

DR. KOCH'S FIELD DAY.

Questions relating to anti-rabies emulsion, the Colony's water supply and typhoid fever were asked by Dr. W. V. M. Koch at the fortnightly meeting of the Sanitary Board held yesterday afternoon. Mr. N. L. Smith conducted the proceedings, and there were also present, in addition to Dr. Koch, Dr. Ozorio, Mr. C. G. Alabaster, K.C., Mr. S. W. Tso, Mr. Wong Kwong-tin, Dr. W. W. Pearce (Medical Officer of Health) and the Secretary (Mr. G. S. Kennedy-Skipston).

"Will the Head of Sanitary Department inform the Board

(1) whether Anti-rabies Emulsion is made in this Colony; if not, from where it is procured; and is a sufficient quantity always kept in stock; and where it is stored.

(2) Under what conditions is it distributed when required, for example by private medical practitioners.

(3) Can it be obtained on Saturday afternoons, Sundays and Public Holidays, and what measures must be taken to procure it."

P.C.M.O. Replies.

The Chairman replied: I am authorised to state on behalf of the Principal Civil Medical Officer: (1) Anti-rabies vaccine is made in the Colony. A sufficient quantity to treat 24 cases at one time is kept in stock. It is stored at the Bacteriological Institute.

(2) It is issued on application by the Government Bacteriologist—(a), to Medical Officers for treatment at the Government Civil Hospital; (b), to private medical practitioners. (The Chairman: In the latter case a charge is made to the private medical practitioners).

(3) Yes; on application to the Government Bacteriologist.

Dr. Koch: Supposing he is not there?

The Chairman: I cannot tell you that. I do not know whether he ever gets a holiday.

Mr. Tso: Is the office closed on Sundays?

Dr. Koch: Yes, they close on Saturday afternoons at one o'clock. Where are we? We shall have to pursue it further, Sir, that is all.

The Chairman: I will if you like.

Dr. Koch: I should like you to, Sir.

The Chairman: The P.C.M.O. answers that it is available on those occasions. You are inclined to doubt that?

Dr. Koch: I am not inclined to doubt it. All I am saying is that if the Bacteriologist is not there, how are we to get it? The Bacteriological Institute is closed. That is the whole question.

The Chairman: This is, of course, only Government supplies. There are other supplies in the Colony as you know.

Dr. Ozorio: Where are the other supplies?

The Chairman: At Watson's.

Dr. Ozorio: Do they have it? The Chairman: Oh yes, very much so.

Dr. Ozorio: But is it fresh?

The Chairman: I am afraid you must ask Watson's about that.

Mr. Wong Kwong-tin was about to pursue the matter, when the Chairman said he could not answer any more questions. He would take the question up again with the P.C.M.O.

The Water Supply.

Dr. Koch, in accordance with notice, asked the following questions:

"1. Is there a standard adopted for judging the Bacteriological purity of the waters of this Colony including Kowloon.

2. If so, what is the standard, and how has it been arrived at? Have past as well as present meteorological conditions and other factors been estimated and studied.

3. Has such examination of these waters always been satisfactory in recent months?

4. How often are the different waters examined bacteriologically each month?"

The Chairman: I am authorised by the P.C.M.O. to give the following answers:

(1) Yes.

(2) Bacillus coli absent from 10 c.c. This standard was adopted on the advice of the Government Bacteriologist after consultation with well-known authorities on water both in Great Britain and the Far East. The nature of the latter half of this question is not quite understood, but it is apt to be less satisfactory than it is after storage.

(3) Yes.

The Chairman: The examination of these waters has been satisfactory in recent months. Is that what you wanted to know?

Dr. Koch: Yes, but what about the results of the examination?

The Chairman: As a matter of fact the P.C.M.O. has put in an answer to that. It is:

The answer to this question is contained in the remarks column of the Bacteriologist's reports, of which copies have been forwarded to the Board.

(4) Samples from each supply are examined once a month, the samples being taken from

(a) Unfiltered or raw water entering the filter beds.

(b) Filtered water after leaving the filter beds.

(c) Tap water from area of distribution of water from supply under examination.

Dr. Koch: The answer to the third question is not clear. He refers to something which is confidential. Why cannot he state openly and clearly that the results have not been satisfactory in certain cases?

The Chairman: That is implied, of course—in certain cases, not satisfactory.

Dr. Koch: We want it stated. Is it possible for us to have the opinion of the Medical Officer of Health on the subject of water, because I think the Medical Officer of Health is best acquainted with the water and water examinations. If he might be permitted to give us a written statement about those matters, it would be very satisfactory.

The Chairman: It is well-known, of course, that water is not the concern of this Board. It has been said a great many times before. I do not know whether the Medical Officer of Health is inclined to make any statement upon the subject.

The Medical Officer of Health: I am not competent to do so.

Typhoid Persistence.

A further question by Dr. Koch was:

"In view of the persistence of the occurrence of Typhoid Fever in the Colony are any further efforts being made to trace the possible source of infection?"

The Medical Officer of Health replied: Enquiries are always made in cases of typhoid fever when notified with a view to eliciting information, which may point to the cause of infection and, especially, with a view to finding a common source of infection in all or any portion of such cases.

Since, however, the decline of the epidemic of last July, when non-Chinese cases occurred out of all

ZANNI NEARLY DROWNED. ALARMING HARBOUR EXPERIENCE. RESCUED IN NICK OF TIME.

A most alarming experience, and one that might easily have ended fatally, befel Major Pedro Zanni, the Argentine flier; his mechanic, M. Felipe Beltrame; and the local Peruvian Consul, Mr. E. Rouillon, just after eight o'clock this morning. Whilst in a motor-boat, on the way to Lai-chikok, they were run into by the Government launch "Victoria" and the airman and the Consul were thrown into the harbour. Zanni had a very narrow escape from drowning.

Major Zanni and his companions left the residence of the Peruvian Consul, Mindon Villas, Kowloon, at about eight o'clock, with the intention of proceeding to Lai-chikok to inspect, and further overhaul his machine. A motor boat was hired at the public pier, Kowloon, the boat being "Moonraker No. 7."

When the motor boat was just off the Naval Yard, Kowloon, it was run into by the Government launch "Victoria" and so great was the force of the impact that Major Zanni and the Peruvian Consul were thrown into the water. The "Victoria" was proceeding at full speed at the time, and the blow which it gave to the motor boat was sufficient to cause the latter to heel over to such an extent that the two passengers named were precipitated into the water. Felipe Beltrame, the mechanic, managed to hold on to one of the stanchions of the awning and was not thrown out.

The "Victoria" instantly made a turning movement, but it could be seen that Major Zanni was in distress. The motor boat was lying disabled some distance from where the men were swimming and was unable to render any assistance. Fortunately, another motor boat, the "Kwong Dien," was fairly close at hand, and it instantly went to the rescue.

Mr. Rouillon appeared to swimming strongly and was heading towards Major Zanni, who is apparently not a very strong swimmer and who was considerably hampered by his clothing. The distance was too much, however, for Mr. Rouillon to make, and the aviator was all but exhausted by the time the people on board the motor boat "Kwong Dien" got to him.

The "Victoria" had by this time made its circular sweep and was almost alongside the "Kwong Dien" when the Peruvian Consul was lifted aboard. Both gentlemen appeared to be somewhat distressed, and were instantly taken on board the "Victoria." It can be truly said that Major Zanni owes his life to the fortunate proximity of the "Kwong Dien."

PROMPT ACTION OF "KWONG DIEN."

MOTOR ACCIDENT.

BROKER'S CLAIM FOR DAMAGES.

Mr. Odell.—There was a party of five or six in the car joy-riding. The Manager of the Connaught Garage Company.—The car was hired by a party who went to the Tung Wah Cemetery to worship ancestors.

These two different versions of the occupants of a car were given in the Summary Court this morning when Mr. H. O. Odell, sharebroker, claimed $600 damages from the Garage Company, for injury to his car, which he alleged was due to the negligence of the driver of defendant company's car.

Mr. E. S. C. Brooks appeared for Mr. Odell and Mr. F. E. Nash defended.

Mr. Brooks said that the accident occurred on July 12th on the Pokfulam Road. Defendant's car was ahead. Mr. Odell was driving towards Repulse Bay, near the Dairy Farm, when he noticed that the car ahead was about to turn. He slowed down to about 10 miles per hour and was about to pass at the rear of defendant's car when the driver slipped into reverse, forcing Mr. Odell to swerve into the bank. The repairs cost $240, his car was out of commission and he claimed $260 for the loss of his car for three weeks, and he also claimed $100 for personal damages.

Mr. Odell bore out his solicitor's opening statement and said that through an interpreter the driver of the other car entreated him to allow him to take the damaged car to the Connaught Garage to be repaired.

Cross-examined, he said he learned to drive in Hongkong and had held a licence for 18 months. He employed a chauffeur, but nine times out of ten drove himself. He considered himself as capable as the ordinary Chinese driver. He was of opinion that he had a perfect right to pass behind the other car. Defendant's car could have turned round without backing; the road was very wide at that part of the road.

Further evidence having been called, the case was adjourned until to-morrow.

ANOTHER PIRACY.

OVER 100 BOATS IN FORT.

This morning at nine o'clock, there were exactly 101 ocean-going vessels in port—a number which, in normal times, is approaching a record.

Of the above number 38 were British, 11 American, 2 Chile, 14 Japanese, 9 Chinese, 2 Danish, 8 Norwegian, 9 Portuguese, 3 Swedish and 5 Dutch.

Shortly after nine o'clock six other vessels entered, bringing the total up to 107.

GERMANS ABROAD.

OBLIGATION TO THE FATHERLAND.

Berlin, Sept. 24.
Speaking at a reception to representatives of the German Chambers of Commerce abroad, President Ebert emphasised that every German abroad was under an obligation to show by his conduct that Germany to-day is justified in claiming the confidence which is necessary to alleviate the heavy task involved in the execution of the London agreement.

The fulfilment of obligations necessitated Germany's participation in the world's trade.

BURIAL POSTPONED.

INDIOTMENT OF POLICE METHODS.

In the Shanghai nautical journal Shipping and Engineering appears a letter which Mr. T. T. Laurensen, asst. secy. of the China Coast Officers Guild, wrote to the Hongkong Colonial Secretary on September 12th, regarding what is described as "the extraordinary, and apparently callous, behaviour of the Water Police in connection with the body of the chief engineer of the s.s. Tangtistan who died from natural causes on Thursday, September 4, about 100 miles distance from this Colony."

It appears that, although due arrangements had been made and the death certificate obtained, the funeral had to be postponed for twenty-four hours (following other vexatious delays) because of what the Water Police described as a rumour of suicide.

Mr. Laurensen states that on September 4th, shortly before one o'clock in the afternoon, the master of the ship found Mr. Lang, the chief engineer, had passed away. A wireless message notifying them of the occurrence was immediately sent to the owners, Messrs. H. M. H. Nemasee, and the following reply was wirelessly to the Tangtistan at 2.40 p.m.:—"Deepest regrets, please bring body Hongkong, arranging for doctor and funeral."

Between 4 and 4.30 that afternoon, the manager for Messrs. Nemasee and Co., telephoned to the Water Police informing them that the chief engineer s.s. Tangtistan had died that day at sea, that the body was being brought to Hongkong for burial, that the vessel was due about midnight and would anchor in the Quarantine ground Stone-cutter's Island at 6 a.m. on the following morning, which she did.

The manager also stated that he arranged with the Port Health Officer for certificate of death and landing permit and requested the police to attend at the quarantine anchorage as soon as possible on that day to remove the body, to which the Water Police agreed.

At 7 a.m. the Port Health Officer boarded the Tangtistan in the quarantine ground and made his examination. The certificate of death was issued which stated, "Death due to chronic nephritis," and permission given to land the body. At 8 a.m. there being no sign of the police boat approaching, the vessel weighed anchor and proceeded to her discharging berth at Tai-ko Sugar Refinery Wharf.

At 10 a.m. the manager of Messrs. Nemasee and Co. telephoned to the Water Police informing them that the body had not been removed from the Tangtistan and the reply was that Shaukiwan Police had been given instructions to attend to the matter. At 1 p.m. two Police Sergeants went on board the Tangtistan to investigate, one leaving the vessel at 1.30 p.m. the other remaining on board. At 3 p.m. a Police launch appeared with the dead box and the body was taken on board at 4 p.m. and conveyed to the mortuary.

The funeral was advertised to pass the Monument at 5.30 p.m. and the friends were all assembled. At 6.15 p.m. the hearse arrived with the coffin and attendants who stated that they had been unable to get the body released from the mortuary.

About this time a message was received from the Water Police, through the Civil Service Club, Happy Valley, who stated that there had been some rumour of suicide and the body was still at the mortuary.

Mr. Laurensen went to the cemetery and informed the clergyman that the burial service could not take place that evening. Shortly after seven o'clock Mr. Laurensen appeared at the Water Police Station and asked the reason for the delay at the mortuary. No further information could be obtained from the police, except that there was a rumour of suicide.

The following morning a post-mortem examination was held

MISSING FRENCHMAN RETURNS.

LOSS OF MEMORY PROBABLE.

M. Douay, a French pastrycook employed in the Hongkong Hotel, surprised a good many friends during the week-end by returning to the Colony suddenly after having been missing for many days. Loss of memory is the reason given for his sudden disappearance from his post eighteen days ago and for the total lack of news of his subsequent movements.

It appears that M. Douay in the condition described above went to Macao where he had stayed until his return to Hongkong last Saturday. Then he had been medically examined and the consequence was that he was taken to the French Hospital, where he is now a patient. Dr. Vadon told a Telegraph representative this morning that M. Douay's condition is still far from normal and very little can be learned from him as he speaks but very little.

MORE ARMS.

DISCOVERED ON LOCAL SHIPS.

A large consignment of arms discovered hidden by smugglers on the Empress of Russia was handed over to the police by the Captain yesterday. This comprised 30 Mauser pistols, 50 magazines, two Winchester rifles and 3,670 cartridges.

Five iron drums containing arms and ammunition were removed to the Police Station from the West Carmania by Sergeant Dodling yesterday. In a search of the boat, these drums were found on board. The smuggler or smugglers did not see fit to come forward to claim the arms.

After completing a search of the Phranang under the Provision of Piracy Ordinance on the 16th inst., Sergeant R. Kirby was handed a Luger pistol by Captain Kittle, who told the police officer that he had found the weapon in the Indian guards' room. When applying for an order for the confiscation of the weapon, at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning, the Sergeant stated that it was unclaimed. Mr. Hamilton ordered the pistol to be confiscated.

INTELLECTUAL INSTITUTE.

PARIS SITE CHOSEN.

Geneva, Sept. 23.
The League Assembly has unanimously adopted the committee's resolution in favour of basing the proposed Institute of Intellectual Co-Operation in Paris, despite opposition from the Australian Labour leader Mr. Charlton, who contended that Geneva, and not Paris, should be the seat of the Institute, otherwise the Institute would depend partly on the French Parliament and not the League. Reuter.

ZAGHLUL PASHA'S VISIT.

DEMONSTRATION BY EGYPTIANS AND INDIANS.

Paris, September 23.
Zaghlul Pasha, who will depart to-day for London, said his two months stay in Paris had been most agreeable and profitable, and he expressed thankfulness for the attentions which his French friends had paid him. Havas.

London, Sept. 23.
There was a picturesque demonstration at Victoria this afternoon on the occasion of the arrival of Zaghlul Pasha to confer with Mr. MacDonald with a view to negotiations for an Anglo-Egyptian settlement. The station approaches were lined by spectators, and the platform was crowded with cheering Egyptians and Indians displaying green and white rosettes and flags, which are the new Egyptian colours. Reuter.

GERMANY AS A GREAT POWER.

CONDITION FOR JOINING THE LEAGUE.

Berlin, September 23.
It is officially announced that Germany will shortly endeavour to enter the League of Nations on the footing of a Big Power. This announcement was made at the close of a Cabinet meeting presided over by Herr Ebert. After stating that the decision to secure entry into the League is unanimous, it proceeds:—"The Government's standpoint is prompted by the consideration that the questions dealt with by the League, especially the protection of minorities and regulation of conditions in the Saar question and general disarmament in connection with the carrying out of military control, and the paramount question of safety and peaceful co-operation of the nations, can only be solved satisfactorily with Germany's collaboration, which could of course only be that of a Great Power on an equal footing with the other nations." Reuter.

London, September 23.
Well-informed circles deny the rumour that direct negotiations are in progress between Paris and Berlin concerning Germany's admission to the League of Nations. In this connection Le Matin says that M. Herriot yesterday received the English Ambassador and then consulted telephonically with the French delegation at Geneva, which deliberated two at a time under the presidency of the ex-Premier M. Briand. Reuter.

FRENCH OPINION.

Paris, September 23.
The Norwegian delegate to Geneva, Dr. Nansen, has ascertained from the French delegates their attitude in the event of the German Reich applying for admission to the League of Nations. M. Briand has replied that the question concerned the Governments themselves, and moreover should be sought in Paris, London and Berlin. He added that there was no reason whatever to modify the view given to the League on September 5th, by M. Herriot, that the admission of Germany would have to be subjected to the common rule, without any privileges or exception. The German request for admission, coming so late, would scarcely be carried to conclusion in the time available. Dr. Nansen would have to go away with a less confident opinion regarding the immediate admission of Germany. Havas.

THE ARBITRATION PROTOCOL.

JAPAN DOES NOT FAVOUR SANCTIONS.

Geneva, September 23.
The first committee is discussing the arbitration protocol. Count Adatol (Japan) explained that he was obliged to reserve his attitude owing to non-receipt of definite instructions from Tokyo. It is freely stated in League circles that Japan generally does not favour the protocol, especially the clauses dealing with arbitrations. Reuter.

AMERICAN COMMITTED.

ADMITS TAKING ARMS ASHORE.

After the case for the prosecution had closed, William Earl Hastings, quartermaster of the s.s. President McKinley, who was charged with possession of one Smith and Wesson revolver, one Luger pistol and 324 rounds of ammunition to-day made a clean breast of the whole affair.

On Monday morning at about 10 o'clock, said the accused, he was preparing to go ashore when the No. 1 butcher approached him and enquired whether he would take two guns ashore for him. Defendant refused at first but later agreed to comply with the request. Defendant explained his reason for taking such a step by saying that the butcher owed him a considerable amount of money and he had within his grasp a chance of having some of it repaid. His intention was to keep possession of the arms until the butcher paid him. When he was handed the arms and ammunition he was instructed to take them to the shore.

When asked whether he had any other reasons for taking the arms ashore, he said that he was a gambler and that he had lost a considerable amount of money at the Casino in Monte Carlo. He said that he had lost a considerable amount of money at the Casino in Monte Carlo.

his meeting with the Chinese revenue officer after leaving the wharf. When he was asked to be searched, defendant said that he could have turned back and run towards the ship if he wished to, but as he had the arms on him he did not want to make any bones about it.

It appears to me, continued the accused, that I have been the victim of a frame-up, as being asked to take the arms and ammunition ashore, that I was
